

Irish Junior Science Olympiad Success for Two Moate Community School Students

Two Moate Community School students, Emma Buckley and Aisling Claffey, were amongst 125 post Junior Certificate students across the nation, to take part in the Irish Junior Science Olympiad Competition on the 7th of November in DCU. These high achieving young ladies earned their place in DCU by earning a minimum of 6 As (including Science and Maths) in the Junior Certificate during this past school year.

This remarkable achievement is applauded by their teachers, peers and friends. The school looks forward to helping these talented and delightful young ladies achieve even higher grades in their leaving certificate exam in just over two years time. Well done Emma and Aisling!
