

Music lessons in Moate Community School to produce high notes in the future

Moate Community School has recently placed great emphasis on the instruction of various musical instruments in the school. In order to facilitate students who may not otherwise get the opportunity to learn a musical instrument, MCS has invested in the purchase of a number of instruments. Two private teachers now visit the school throughout the school week to provide one-to-one tuition to students, making use of the new string and wood wind school instruments. While the students pay a nominal fee for this service, the school has made possible the development of possible hidden talents within some students.

This venture serves to highlight the value MCS places on the holistic development of all students. The music department is overseeing this project with a view to the creation of a school orchestra in the future.

Moate Community School, Church St. Moate, Co. Westmeath (c) 2010